

Would you like to serve on federal and state commissions, national boards, task forces or committees?

Would you be an OME spokesperson with the media or a mentor to students?

The Talent Bank is AACOM's platform for members to share their expertise to help promote and grow OME. You may highlight your personal interests, experience and specialties and select the ways you would like to represent the OME community. The Talent Bank will streamline the process for finding OME representatives for both internal and external audiences. When you fill out your Talent Bank profile, you are joining a network of individuals dedicated to furthering the reach of excellence in OME.

My Interests

My Interests (Please indicate your willingness to serve as a representative of AACOM and the osteopathic medical education community in the roles listed below. You will be contacted for pre-approval if an opportunity arises that matches your interest and expertise. Checking the box only represents a willingness to serve not an obligation for any given position. AACOM does not control the opportunities, so identifying more areas of interest will increase the likelihood of selection.)

Registering in the Talent Bank does not mean that you have agreed to serve in a particular role. AACOM will seek approval of any specific positions prior to nomination or media outreach. Filling out your profile takes only a few minutes and is the preliminary action you must take to express interest in showcasing your expertise in the future. Log in now to serve as a voice for the OME community.

Thank you for helping increase and elevate OME!
